GEORGE W. PRATT DIES AT HOME HERE FRIDAY

(From Friday's Daily)

George W. Pratt, 83, pioneer of Milam county and a native of Tennessee, died early Friday at his country home in the Rice community.

Mr. Pratt had been critically ill for about a week and although the family and close friends knew about his condition the public at large was severely shocked when news came of his death.

Born in Tennessee he came to Texas at the age of 9 years and had lived in Milam county 74 years. In 1941, Mr. Pratt celebrated his birthday with an all day reception at his home when hundreds of neighbors and friends came in to visit him and extend congratulations. A large family of children survive him.

Funeral services are to be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, May 2, 1942, from the church at Rice Cemetery.

Further particulars regarding his life will be available to the Herald Saturday.

Bond Sales Lagging And Quotas Are Far From Schedules

Bond sales for the week indicate that quotas are far from reaching schedule and the total for the year is anything but impressive, taking into consideration the nearly one million dollar quota for the county.

Sales for the week as reported by Emory B. Camp, chairman, amounted to around $14,000.

This report is not to be taken as an indication that the quota sales will fail nor any lack of hard work on the part of Mr. Camp and his committee.

It does indicate that some of the communities have a long way to go. For instance, one community with a quota of $15,000 has reported only $50 sold. Another community with a quota of $15,200 has sold $200.

Cameron with a quota of $227,500 has purchased only $61,681 thus far.

Trench Mortar Shell Used in Modern War Is Brought to Herald

A trench mortar shell was brought to the Herald early Thursday by Bert Nicholson.

The shell is the type used in warfare but this shell is used for practice in the training camps, coming from Brownwood. It is partially filled with tallow and is discharged with an ordinary 12 gauge shotgun shell.

The trench mortar is said to be the most effective semi-artillery weapon infantry has. Under battle conditions these shells explode like shrapnel and are very destructive.

STARS AND STRIPES ARE FADING IN FAR EAST

The fall of Corregidor in Manila Bay temporarily knocked the United States out of the war with the exception of air men who are fighting on various fronts.

General Wainwright surrendered Corregidor only after the Japs had landed on the island and stormed the fort and not until his men were exhausted by hunger and disease and ran short of ammunition.

Corregidor is the last place in the world where the Stars and Stripes were floating Wednesday over a battle line in which American men are fighting.

The fall of the fort was received in Washington with the same resignation that came with the fall of Bataan. Brave men fought until they could stand no longer, without food and without help.

Manila Bay is now to become a base for the Japanese fleet.

The French cabinet has been called to meet Thursday. There was some belief the French might declare war on England to carry out the alliance with Japan and Germany.

Cameron Boy With Corregidor Army

Alfred Simecek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Simecek of Cameron, is with the American army on Corregidor Island which fell early Wednesday to the Japanese.

Peter Krug, German War Prisoner, Taken In San Antonio Raid

Peter Krug, German aviator shot down over England in 1941 and sent to Canada as a war prisoner and who escaped from a war prison camp near Ontario, was captured Saturday morning in a San Antonio Hotel.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation, through its special agent in charge, M. W. Arers at San Antonio, sent a news story to the Herald last week to be published as an aid in apprehending Krug.

Krug, it was disclosed had traveled about the country after his escape, first going to Chicago and then to the East and finally to Dallas where he took a bus for San Antonio.

Tipped off that he was on the bus, San Antonio officers, including FBI Agents, permitted Krug to go to a hotel and register.

When the officers went to his room Krug would not open the door, in fact had fastened it with a chain from the inside. It took three minutes for the officers to convince Krug they were coming in.

After 3 hours of questioning he finally admitted his identity. He had a war savings stamp and two suit cases, one of which was filled with ammunition for his pistol, the other with clothing and chocolates.

When being fingerprinted Krug reminded the officers they must respect his rank as a German officer. "We always do things well," he said when reminded by an officer that he had apparently done pretty good with his escape.

Two tone eggs are the latest fad with a hen belonging to Blondie Brashar at the Safeway Store.

The eggs are brown with dark brown effect for two tones.

CHINA MAY SOON BE CONQUORED BY INVADERS

Japan's pattern of conquest was running true to plans today as columns of invading troops crossed the border into India.

Powerful units of the Japanese army have penetrated far up the Burma road into China.

Fears were expressed China might be knocked out of the war and the conquest of India will be a picnic for the Japs. There is no army in India to defend that country.

Madagascar was almost in British hands and the London Star said that American troops have landed in South Africa.

Japanese air raids in New Guinea have lessened. Fear of an invasion is expressed.

The Red Army has driven a wedge in Nazi lines south of Leningrad.

The country is being treated as usual with an avalanche of newspaper editorials lauding the men on Corregidor. An editorial campaign to go to their aid might have been better. In all 11,544 men were lost on Corregidor.

GEO. W. PRATT BURIED AT RICE SATURDAY

(From Saturday's Daily)

Funeral services for George Washington Pratt, 83, who died at his home in the Rice community early Friday, were held at the Rice church at 2:30 Saturday, May 2, 1942.

George Washington Pratt was born in Giles county, Tennessee, on June 4, 1859, and died on Friday, May 1, 1942.

At an early age Mr. Pratt moved to Texas with his parents and settled in Milam county, making his home here until his death.

On July 26, 1876, he was united in marriage to Mary Louetta Cloud. To this union were born 8 children, four of whom survive. The mother of the children died on May 30, 1893, leaving only four of the family to survive.

Surviving children are: Samuel C. Pratt of Rosser in Kaufmann county, H. H. Pratt of Rosser; F. A. Pratt of Reasel, and Mrs. Jeff Cochran of Rosser.

On November 1, 1893, Mr. Pratt was married to Martha Elizabeth Baker who survives her husband. To this union were born 9 children, of whom 5 survive as follows: Mrs. W. R. Isabell of Scurry, Mrs. R. L. Bollinger of Cameron, Mrs. H. T. McFarland of Rosser, Mrs. W. A. Bolling of Gause, and Mrs. E. L. Chasteen of Cameron.

Thus at the age 82 years, 10 months and 27 days, a beloved friend and neighbor, father and husband has passed to his reward leaving 9 children, 46 grand children and 20 great grand children. His descendants number 90. This early settler in Milam county leaves a well rounded record of service to his community and friendship to his neighbors.

Not far away from the home where he has lived for many years the body of the pioneer was interred Saturday afternoon, in the soil which he adopted as a small boy and which he loved through the years as an honored Texan by choice. With his passing the memory of the pioneer survives to remain with us and to be cherished through the years, an inspiration to all.

ANOTHER MAJOR WAR DEFEAT IS SUFFERED

Mandalay—the Mandalay of the Ruyard Kipling and many colorful stories of adventure, and regarded as a key position in the defense of both India and China, today had fallen to the Japanese.

The fall of Mandalay was announced by Tokyo early Saturday and in London the British said "it is probably true." The Japanese are now streaming up the Burma Roads virtually without opposition and the whole of China is menaced.

Months ago the United Nations should have planned defense of key positions but the same precautions now absent over the need of trenches in Florida also were missing in Singapore, the Philippine Islands and the Dutch Indies which were yet to be conquered by the Japanese.

Today the United States and Great Britain faced a war of 5 to 10 years in the far east to gain back what the Japanese have taken in 5 months. All because there is no vision and no war.

Authorities believed the Japanese now may abandon immediate plans to conquer India and will move to knock China out of the war and at the same time attack Australia.

The next few days in the East will be crucial days.

The Russians have launched a strong offensive in the direction of Orel and Joseph Stalin said that Germany's spring drive is a myth. Meanwhile in London, Admiral Stark said that he is convinced that no matter how long it takes, the American and British navies will eventually defeat the Japanese navy, although heavy losses are to be expected. The Admiral said that 1942 is a crucial year.

A read between the lines approach to the whole war problem leads us all to realize that the United Nations will be able to do little fighting for the next 2 or 3 years.

Want To Say

DAY BY DAY

Things We

THANKS, HANS PETER KRUG

The insolent remarks of the captured German bomber pilot at San Antonio Saturday are, at first analysis, revolting to the American people.

He told FBI officers that "everything we do it good" and paid his own personal tribute to the American people as "utterly stupid and gullible."

This officer is typical of the Nazi military type, so, as a matter of fact, the attitude showed was but to be expected.

Maybe, on second thought, the bragging of this escaped Nazi flier has its useful purpose, as bragging often does for those it is intended to ridicule.

We've been too accustomed to peace. We have trusted everybody and we have told everybody our secrets.

None of our information have we kept to ourselves and generally speaking all of us have been careless in our attitude . . . careless enough, in fact that a man of this type has been able to roam our country on false passport, neither apprehended nor suspected most of the time, and always released when apprehended.

So possibly the criticism he has leveled at the American people will serve a very useful purpose. Possibly it will serve to awaken us to the need for wartime precautions. Maybe it will put our law enforcement officials more keenly on the alert.

Maybe we will wake up and realize that even if there are not escaped enemy prisoners in our lands there are plenty of enemy spies, enemy agents, enemy sympathizers trying their best to embarrass and weaken the war effort of the United States.

If such comes to pass, the arrest of Lieut. Hans Peter Krug and his comments to officers will be of extreme value to the American cause.

There are so many ways, endless in fact, by which those who work against our nation may harm the United States and often its fighting moral . . . Ways in which you and I may innocently and gullibly participate without knowing it.

We have almost as great an enemy within to ward off with our constant vigilance as we have without our borders.

The enemy who makes us dissatisfied and critical of our allies, who magnifies the mistakes of our leaders or creates the impressions that their acts are mistakes, the enemy who whispers and starts us whispering . . . he is the enemy we must be on guard against.

Thanks, Hans Peter Krug, for reminding us of our patriotic duty to our own land. For a slippery sort of an eel, you've been very helpful.

We shall not forget the lesson.—Temple Telegram.

Class 1B Men To Be Called By June 1st

Men who have failed to pass army physical examination and who have been classified 1B will be called for military duty by June 1st, according to a radio announcement at noon Friday.

Men in Class 1B are those who have minor physical disabilities and have been turned down for military service because of the extremely high standards.

All draft boards have a number of these men. Those less physically qualified are in 4F.

There were no details over the announcement Class 1B men will be called.

END THREE DAY MEET AT SALSBERG AUSTRIA

Adolph Hitler and Benito Mussolini, each a dictator in his own name and the principal offenders who brought war to the world are ending a three day meeting in Salsberg, Austria, Friday.

News emanating from Axis sources said that the Dictators had been discussing plans for a complete victory this summer and also were making plans to consolidate the victories already achieved.

In times past when the Dictators met it meant a new campaign.

Joseph Stalin in Russia said the Red Army will and must defeat Germany this year.

There have been rumors of trouble in Italy and Germany as well. Well informed Democratic governments have rejected these rumors, as they should. Actually the war cannot be won by wisful thinking and any comfort the countries may get out of the suggested victory of 'waiting' for a revolt to occur in Axis countries, greatly enhances chances of failure.

The Japanese have Burma. They are now scheduled to take Australia. Growing American forces in that country are to be wiped out, say the commentators, if present indications count. There is also a strong probability that Japan may strike at communication lines between America and Australia.

The Japs are moving on Mandalay.

Meanwhile the air war continues. The Americans and Russians have destroyed 58 Japanese planes in the past two days, 30 of them shot down Friday.

Over England 11 Nazi bombers were shot down when the Germans sought to renew attacks on the British Isles.

ALLIED PRAYER AND FLORENCE
NIGHTENGALE SERVICE

May 13 at 8:00 at the First Baptist Church all churches are asked to come together for prayer and for commemoration of the life and work of the great nurse Florence Nightengale.

Dr. J. W. Torbett, M. D. of Marlin will address the physicians and nurses of our city. He will speak on "The Care of God's Temple." Dr. Torbett is one of the most outstanding physicians of central Texas. He is a great Christian, and last but not least a poet. Some time ago he heard a letter read over the radio from a mother to her son in Burma. He wrote the following poem:

MY SON

My son, my life, of me a living part,
All but the soul's immortal spark divine.

I gave you form, a brain, my loving heart;

Since birth your joys and sorrow were mine.

From childhood's days to your full manhood state

Are golden memories treasured in my mind,

But in God's hands, your mission and your fate

Are pledged to help save Freedom for mankind.

You have your life in the service now to give,

Your body too, in death to sacrifice

That hopeful youths who come to love and live

With Truth and Justice never compromise;

Yours now build the brotherhood of man and

By Love to banish Hate with God's own Plan.

J. W. TORBET, M. D.

Hear this great mind and life speak at First Baptist Church, May 13.

Reflooring of the bridge over Little River, near Cameron, has been started which causes a halt in the traffic at times until temporary arrangements can be made to let the caravans pass over. They are rapidly completing the work so that the traffic may be unimpeded.

Rev. Bob Pool, pastor of First Methodist Church, is in a Marlin hospital for an operation. Friends here are glad to know he is doing well.

MRS. ROSIE RUBAC

When on the evening of April 26, Death's Bright Angel visited the home of Frank Rubac at Buckholts, and bade the spirit of his aged mother, Mrs. Rosie Rubac, come, one of the most beloved characters of that community departed unto its maker.

She was born Rosie Tomascik, daughter of Anna and Martin Tomascik, at Raketnice, Moravia, a province of the now ill-fated Czechoslovakia, on February 4, 1861. When she was five years old, her parents decided to immigrate to the new world of Hope and Promise. For six weeks their ship, its sails billowed and buffeted by ill winds and good, plowed the seas towards Galveston, where on New Year's day of 1866, its human cargo arrived.

The family settled at Wesley, Washington county. There she spent her girlhood, interspersed with the hardships endured by most of our early forebears. She knew the laborious act of making candles, their means of lighting, of molten beeswax; she knew the tiresome task of separating cotton line from the seed before ginning became the simple process that it is today, for in those days even the smallest child had to help at this weary duty. The amount of work that befell each member of the family, depended on the size of shoe worn. Before it was permitted to retire at night, it had to fill his shoe with the cleaned seed. She filled many a shoe, tiny ones at first, and larger ones as she grew older.

It was in this old settlement of Wesley that she met John Rubac, son of a pioneer Texas freight coach driver, who wooed and won her for his bride in 1882.

The young couple moved to Milano in 1883, lived there a year, whence they moved to Buckholts in which immediate vicinity they spent the remainder of their lives.

Three children came to bless this union. Frank the oldest of Buckholts, Frances, the wife of Frank Kovar of Fayetteville, and John who preceded her in death in 1904.

Besides her son and daughter, she leaves to mourn her passing, one brother, John Tomascik of Buckholts, one sister, Mrs. Veronica Kohut of Caldwell; one half sister, Mrs. Anna Sefcik of Milano. Three grand children, Frank J. Rubac of Buckholts, Mrs. Rose Rose of Houston, Mrs. Frances Staha of Hallettsville and 8 great grand children.

She was a devoted member of the Czech Lutheran church in whose bosom the last rites were conducted under the direction of Marek-Burns of Cameron with Rev. Joseph Hegar of Temple officiating.

She was tenderly laid to rest in the City Cemetery, neath a bower of flowers. Her sorrowing relatives and a host of friends who knew her by the Czech diminutive, "Starenka," came to pay her their last respects.

Mrs. Lucille Przybysz formerly of Cameron has accepted a position as manager of Laurel Heights Beauty Shoppe, Woodlawn addition, San Antonio.

Cook vegetables by the "waterless" method. The flexible Gas flame will give you the exact degree of heat you need.

Cover vegetables and bring to boil quickly over full Gas flame. Turn flame low, cook gently.

Cook vegetables shortest possible time. Serve promptly. Store vegetables in hydrator of Gas refrigerator to help preserve perishable vitamins.

How to Save Food

Roast meat at low temperature in your Gas oven to reduce shrinkage.

Remember that the flexible Gas flame can be regulated to any degree of heat you need, eliminating scorching of food.

Use any remaining vegetable liquids in soups, gravies, sauces, or cold in tomato juice.

Plan one casserole dish a week to use left-overs.

How to Save Fuel

Do not pre-heat your Gas oven or broiler too long. Remember Gas is fast.

Plan complete oven and broiler meals, to make full use of Gas. Avoid using small pans on large or giant top burners.

Do not heat any more water than you need at one time. The speedy Gas flame is so fast that it will heat the water quickly next time you need it.

WASHINGTON

By CONGRESSMAN POAGE
Visits Portion of His District

Dear Friends:

This has been a most momentous week in Washington. On Monday the President sent a message to the Congress relative to the seven steps he felt should be taken to prevent inflation. Tuesday night he elaborated on this message in his radio speech to the Nation. You probably listened to that speech. Earlier that day Senator Connally had agreed to allow the Senate to pass over his plant seizure and labor control bill, because, as he explained, there was no use of making the fight in the face of the President's opposition. Finally, on yesterday afternoon, the House Committee on Naval Affairs voted by a one-vote margin (13 to 12) to table (kill) the Vinson labor control bill, which would have extended the basic work week from 40 to 48 hours, and which has been pending for some time. This vote was undoubtedly the result of the President's statement that he did not feel that there was any necessity for any increase in the hours of the basic work week, even in war industries, and that he felt that no legislation would be required to control wages, even though he advocated legislation to control farm prices and all other prices.

I have great respect for President Roosevelt, but I cannot agree with the theory that labor is always right and can be trusted voluntarily to keep wages down, but that our farmers are an unpatriotic group who must be coerced by law to keep their prices down. I think that, as a whole, all groups of Americans are fair and loyal, but there are selfish and disloyal laborers, just as there are selfish and even disloyal farmers, bankers and manufacturers. For that reason, I think it perfectly proper that we fix all profits, prices and wages, but as I see it, the regulation should apply to all alike. I feel that the President made a mistake in not advocating the same treatment for labor as he advocates for the farmers and for capital. I think every group should be ready to make sacrifices for the Nation, and that every organization should be responsible for its acts. There was a time when our Government winked at the special privileges that big business enjoyed. While some business still struggles to retain their special privileges, practically everyone agrees that they are not justified. Neither are labor organizations entitled to the immunity from responsibility for their acts that they now enjoy. Neither should any private organization, whether it be a labor group or a private corporation, have the right to deny American citizens the opportunity to work on war jobs because of failure to pay dues to some organization.

I realize that the President's suggestion that a ceiling be placed on farm prices at 100 per cent of parity, seems, on its face to be very fair, but before agreeing to such a proposal, I would want to know what is to be done about a floor under farm prices. Labor has a floor under wages (the minimum wage law.) True this law only guarantees a bare living, but that is all the parity formula does. Even if the farmer is guaranteed parity for his cotton, his wages for his work will only be about one-half that guaranteed to the industrial laborer under the minimum wage law, and many laborers receive much more than the minimum. I am glad they do. I don't want to lower their standard, and neither does the President, but I don't think that it is unfair under these circumstances for the farmer to demand that if he is to be limited to a bare subsistence price for his products that he at least be guaranteed that he will get that price. In other words, he should be given a floor as well as a ceiling.

The present farm program provides a floor of 85 per cent of parity and authorizes a ceiling of 110 per cent of parity. The reason for this was to allow a reasonable range of free price movement. I think that it is a reasonable arrangement. At the time it was adopted the farmer accepted it in good faith. It has not as yet resulted in giving the farmers full parity for his products, although he is approaching the figure. I don't feel that it would be fair to destroy this give-and-take-system and impose a ceiling on farm prices that is not imposed on wages without at least giving the farmer some assurance that he will actually get parity. I hope the President will see the justice of this request.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Honoring her small daughter, Rita Frances, Mrs. Frank Reid, entertained Saturday afternoon, May 2nd, celebrating her third birthday, on the lawn of her home. There were 24 little friends and 15 of the mothers present to enjoy the occasion. Spring flowers added beauty to the scene. A wishing well was popular for all the tots who received pretty souvenirs, in the dining room. A May Pole was a lovely attraction in the dining room where a beautiful birthday cake rested and later refreshments were served to all. Plate favors were attractive tiny baskets bearing three small candles, all wrapped in celophane.

The little honoree was recipient of many beautiful gifts. Her picture was made sitting by her birthday cake, that was handsomely decorated with flowers. A happy group of play mates wished for her many returns of the occasion as they bade her good bye.

Texas Power & Light Employees Make Good In War Bonds Sales

THIS IS THE STORY OF CARBOLOY

How a Most Strategic Material of the War—Invented in Germany—Was Made Available to the United Nations

More Precious Than Diamonds in War Production . . . Carboloy is an American trademark for cemented tungsten-carbide, an alloy second only to diamonds in hardness, more precious than diamonds as a vital material in America's war program. It is used for the tips of cutting tools, and for wear-resistant dies. Carboloy is used in small quantities; it is difficult to make and difficult to use—but it has never been scarce in modern times. There is no scarcity now.

Invented in Germany—Krupp Protected by U. S. Patents . . . Cemented carbide was invented in Germany—it belonged to Krupp of Germany, and this made all the rest of the world Krupp's customer. In this country, Krupp was protected by patent grants from the United States.

General Electric Creates Independent Production . . . The General Electric Company two years before this had begun research on tungsten-carbide and foresaw its importance in industrial production. For immediate use in its own plants and for easier availability to others, General Electric undertook the long and arduous negotiations for the American rights. Limited rights were obtained in 1928, with Krupp continuing to export the material to its United States customers—a business which languished, however, as General Electric painstakingly developed its own Carboloy technique. This paved the way for General Electric to make the United States entirely independent of Germany for its cemented tungsten-carbide supply as early as 1936.

American Tool Costs Half That of German . . . From the start, two totally different businesses were involved. Krupp originally exported cemented carbides in chunks—and was unsuccessful. General Electric—and its subsidiary, Carboloy Co., Inc.—found it necessary to develop a complete engineering and manufacturing service, making various types of Carboloy equipped tools, training men in their use, and offering to its customers a specialized and successful production technique. For purposes of fair comparison, a typical German cemented carbide tool in 1928 cost $22.26 in the United States, while a comparable American Carboloy tool cost $11.11.

Loss to General Electric for Many Years—Art Taught to Industry . . . In times of peace—and 1928 was such a time—the measure of success of industrial adventure is to be found in profit to the adventurer. By such a measure, Carboloy could not be called successful. Initial expenses were great. For a time the Company lost at the rate of $1000 a day, and once had an operating deficit of more than a million dollars. One of the major contributing reasons was the continuing high cost of development, standardization, and training. In 1936—37 alone, training courses were given to 10,000 men in industry. Moreover, six major price reductions were made in the face of operating losses, until the standard tool blank had been reduced in price 90 per cent.

Faith and Perseverance . . . Depression was still another reason—labor-saving tools could not be sold to industry or labor at any price. But General Electric, with determination that now seems providential, kept on—increasing its capacity, granting new licenses, condoning instances of unlicensed production, staying ahead of its market.

Production Multiplied Forty-five Times in Four Years . . . Cemented tungsten-carbide could easily have been a source of weakness here, as it was in England, had it not been for General Electric's policy of continued expansion. In 1939, the production of the Carboloy Company was less than 20,000 lbs.; in 1940 it was 55,000 lbs.; in 1941, it was 163,000— and in December came Pearl Harbor. Now, in 1942, the Company's production is going at a rate that is 45 times that of only four years ago.

Britain Dependent upon Us . . . By contrast British companies, which had been content to continue as customers of Krupp, found themselves cut off from the vital material when Poland was invaded. But the General Electric Company was able to supply substantial quantities to British industry immediately and since then has continuously filled British orders. It has, in like manner, filled Canada's requirements since 1936. It is currently supplying Canada, Russia, and other United Nations. All this in addition to supplying the greatly expanded needs of American industry.

An Inspirational Story of American Industry . . . Thus, the story of Carboloy does not end in "too little and too late." Like many previously untold stories of American industry, it continues, a sturdy and inspiring example of public service born of private enterprise, and characterized by hard work, ingenuity, investment, research, risk, and courage—a familiar pattern on this side of the Atlantic. General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York.

A ROUND TRIP Ticket FOR HIM!

HE'S going without asking if it's a one-way, or a round trip; but you want him to have a Round Trip!

Your electric power companies are giving him every guarantee of a Round Trip that electric power can give him! They had the reserve power needed to step up the building of guns, bullets, ships, planes, tanks and other war materials. They added enough power in 1941 to light one-fourth of the nation's homes . . . and have still more on the way for the bigger, tougher jobs ahead.

Texas Power and Light and the other electric power companies have more power at work today throughout the nation than Japan, Germany and Italy all put together . . . and they're pledged to the job of keeping America powerful . . . of helping to guarantee all our boys a maximum chance of a Round Trip Ticket.

O SAY does that star spangled banner yet wave o'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

Francis Scott Key

Key wrote those and the other words of the "Star-Spangled Banner" while imprisoned on a British ship in the War of 1812, after seeing the U. S. flag waving over Fort Mifflin following a night of bombardment.

LITTLE ACTION SHOWN IN DAYS WAR NEWS

War news for the day was a patchwork of reports, some good and some bad.

The Japanese are gaining steadily in Burma and are now within a few miles of the border of China.

Chief among the topics of interest in the war news of the day is the reported sea battle somewhere in the Arctic Ocean. The Germans say that a large British Cruiser and 6 other vessels are in the convoy.

Yesterday the United States launched 4 new destroyers, setting an all time record for one day's launching of war ships.

The Allied airmen in Australia are carrying out extensive air raids. The RAF has again begun to bomb Germany and last night Hamburg was the target.

WAR ON BRITAIN IS WAR ON UNITED STATES

Relations between the United States and France were expected hourly to be broken off over the occupation of Madagascar by a British force.

Although the United States had no ships or troops in the occupation forces, this government has sent a note to France stating plainly that if the Government of Vichy makes war upon Britain the United States will consider it war upon America.

The note was presented in Vichy at the same time it was handed to the French Ambassador in Washington.

Both the United States and Great Britain have said the Island of Madagascar will be held in trust for France to be returned to France and that its occupation was to keep the Japs from taking it.

Japan called it "aggression."

In Berlin the German radio said that the French are resisting.

In Vichy both Marshal Petain and Admiral Darlan called upon the forces of Madagascar to fight the British. Madagascar has a population of about 4 million and is located off the East coast of Africa not far from British South Africa.

Martin Pritchett of Hanover observed his 84th birthday Saturday. He is one of the few remaining old time citizens who have passed 80 years of age.

Next Sunday is Mothers Day. We are asking that some dependable member of each family try to get the entire family in church for next Sunday. You can honor mother in no greater way, no better way than to attend every service of the church. Your Mother's love was more like God's love than anything we have on earth. Everybody make it to church somehow for it will bless you and have its influence in heaven and earth both.

The music will fit the occasion and will be uplifting and inspiring. Miss Inez Collins will have charge of the special music.

Last Sunday's report shows that we had 244 in Sunday School; Training Union attendance 87, and offering of $98.54. Our Baptist Worker's Conference showed an attendance of 60 at the Clarkson Baptist church.

Rev. Howard Whatley will be ordained as a preacher at our church at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Rev. V. M. Cloyd has been invited to speak. All of our community is urged to be present.

Plans are being made for an Allied Prayer and Florence Nightengale service at our church next Wednesday night. Dr. J. W. Torbett, M. D. of Marlin will speak on "The Care of God's Temple." You will miss one of the truly great services of the week if you miss this one, so make plans now to be at First Baptist church Wednesday at 8:00, May 13.

Sunday School at 9:45.

11:00 Sermon, "Oh Love that Will Not Let Me Go."

7:00 raining Union.

8:00 Sermon, "What Have They Seen In Thy House." Kings 20:15.

Men are known by the company they keep! Attend Church! Some are known by the company they don't keep!
